UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

To the Parents and Citizens Residing in Union School District:

Agreeable to a long established custom, the Board of Education herewith submits a brief report of its stewardship during the past year.

The school year gauged by the standard for which salaries are paid has been thirty-six weeks, but by reason of the country-wide epidemic of influenza, or black plague, as some term it, of pneumonia and other ills, amounting almost to a pestilence during the autumn of 1918, resulting in the closure of the schools, nearly five weeks of the term were lost.

While the influenza more generally attacked those of middle age rather than the old and young, Edward Woodcock, whose father and mother both contracted and died of the fell disease, also caught the same, and was the only pupil in this district to succumb to its ravages. Yet by reason of the frightened condition of many of the parents and the possibility of the spread of the contagion among the pupils it was deemed wise to keep the schools closed for four weeks and three days, until the danger had apparently passed.

The teachers elected for the year were Miss Grace E. Downing in Grade VIII and as principal; Miss E. Belle Calley, who had decided to resume teaching, in Grades VI and VII; Miss H. Elizabeth Shattuck in Grades IV and V; Miss Susan J. Hanson in Grades II and III; and Miss Clara M. Ingalls in the Primary Department. Mrs. Katherine P. Crafts was re-elected supervisor of music.

As Miss Wing had concluded to engage in another vocation than teaching, the Board secured the services of Miss Elizabeth R. Fernald, a graduate of Colby University at Waterville, Me., for the High School.

All these teachers have been interested in the pupils personally and in the work of the schools generally, and have labored earnestly and industriously for the welfare of the scholars, and to keep the schools up to standard, but have been seriously handicapped by reason of the closure aforesaid during the fall term, and by the non-attendance of pupils afflicted with real or imaginary ills, of others having no reasonable excuse for their absence, and of those who were slow in returning long after all danger of contagion from other pupils had passed.

The sanitation of the various rooms and parts of the school buildings has received careful thought and attention from the Board. The janitor, Mr. Evander M. Tenney, has in that regard as in other matters of care of the property cheerfully and faithfully cooperated with the Board. There has been no suspicion nor evidence of any infection or contagion arising from lack of proper sanitation.

Outside of the influenza and the ordinary ills, the health of the children has been good. The Board until quite recently has been unable by reason of war conditions to purchase any coal for the past two years. On account of the very high cost of other fuel, the unusually mild and sunny winter has been a blessing to the district as well as to others financially. There have been no stormy days thus far, to the date of this report, to require a closure or for the pupils to remain indoors away from the schools, in sharp contrast with last winter with its many gray and sunless days with the mercury ranging from zero to minus thirty.

The treasurer reports that the finances of the district are in a very satisfactory condition and that there have been no extraordinary expenditures during the past year.

From reports received through the press it would appear that an enforced state educational regime is about to be adopted by the present legislature of New Hampshire. If the recommendations of the committee appointed by the governor are adopted, there will be a State Board of Education of five members in addition to the Governor ex-officio, the members not to be technical educators nor professionally engaged in school work, with executive officers appointed by this Board, with state-wide supervision, standard schools of 36 weeks minimum, a general plan for teaching of English to non-English speaking adults, and to minors between 16 and 21 years of age for their Americanization, and further, "'tis a consummation devoutly to be wished," with competent teachers for each and every school in the state.

The selectmen are to assess an annual tax of $3.50 on each $1,000 of value of ratable estate for the support of public schools. The Literary Fund is to be retained in the State treasury instead of being divided among the districts as heretofore.

In addition each district is to pay to the State treasurer each year a sum equal to $2 for each child residing in the district who was enrolled therein in the last preceding year.

The total additional expenditures for school purposes under the new bill, in addition to the amount now required by law, are variously estimated from $200,000 to $450,000.

The total required for all school expenditures is about $3,000 000. The bill may be modified but seems likely to become a law.

So far as Bristol alone is concerned it does not need this law. There are very few illiterates, old or young, therein.

But in view of the large number of aliens, illiterates and non-speaking English people in our cities, in and about lumber camps and manufacturing towns, and in view of the fact that it is claimed that one out of every 16 persons in New Hampshire is not familiar with the English language, it is highly important that the towns and cities or the state take active and strenuous measures to remedy this menace to our free institutions and that the people be willing to tax themselves liberally for the education of all, and the Americanization in particular of the alien and non-English speaking races within the borders of our country. It is said that out of 17,000,000 aliens in the country, only 6,000,000 have been naturalized. Therefore this nation is confronted with a tremendous educational problem in order to properly instruct, equalize and amalgamate this illiterate element which is a source of peril to the nation, until it shall be made to understand the value of the liberty and equality which is possible for them under this free government.

This idea was well stated in part by a recent Lincoln Day orator who declared "We are equal in our privileges and therefore equal in our responsibilities to the nation whose liberties we enjoy. We are equal in our right to the ripest fruits of aspiration and therefore equal in our obligations to support the government and protect society from any and every unholy invasion. In view of several present evil tendencies, our supreme duty in order to save society from supreme disaster, is to throttle the first approach of anarchy, to stifle the spirit of the Bolsheviki and to put our eternal condemnation upon the forces of moral paralysis and economic disruption."

This restraint should be followed by proper education and Americanization.

It will redound to the lasting credit of the tax-payers of Union District that they have generously adopted the recommendations of the Board heretofore in raising money and providing facilities for the operation and management of the public schools, and on its part the Board has strenuously endeavored to manage the finances of the District in an economical, prudent and efficient manner and it believes it has succeeded in this respect.

While there has been occasional criticism of the schools, mainly by those least informed and least able to judge of their value, for itself the Board can state that it has had no personal interest to subserve, its sole desire being to secure the best results in its power.

On behalf of the teachers it is only fair to state that during the past 15 years at least, the work of the teachers of these schools will average well and compare favorably with that of similar schools.

While schools for the instruction of teachers in their art are desirable, a machine-made graduate is not necessarily competent in the true sense of the word, although a diploma may make her so for the purposes of certain school authorities.

The teacher's art and effort are exerted upon human beings rather than blocks of wood or marble.

Unless a teacher in the elementary school at least, otherwise duly educated, is imbued with large humanity, warm sympathy and sincere love for the pupils, coupled with tact and courtesy, good sense and judgment, with sufficient executive ability, with capacity to interest and enthuse the majority at least of the pupils under her care, in their course of study, and to encourage and assist them to make the wisest use of their time and opportunity during school life, and in their development into men and women of right purpose, right thought and right action in life, that teacher, however, well educated in technical learning, lacks the essentials of competency.

In respect to imparting instruction some teachers are like the awkward and untutored youth on "declamation day" of whom the witty editor of the Lowell Currier used to say "He would rather hold his piece than speak it."

It is said that the latest test for scholarship is that which supplements ordinary examination by a psychological test of the mind, ability and knowledge of the applicant by delicate mechanical apparatus.

Whether this test is to be applied to the teachers of the future does not yet appear. It does not seem to be specifically required by the new legislative bill.

While the majority of the parents have cooperated with the Board in inculcating punctuality and constant attendance upon the sessions of the schools, yet there is a considerable minority which has been careless and indifferent in this regard, in not giving heed to requests of teachers to compel the children to be punctual upon the sessions, and also in making frequent requests, seemingly unnecessary, of the teachers that their children be excused from attendance upon the whole or a part of a session, in keeping them out of school without excuses, for work during school hours, or for other unnecessary purposes contrary to the school laws and the best interest of the children, and generally in encouraging truancy, thereby lessening the opportunity and desire of the children for an education and seriously interfering with the standard and morale of the schools.

Such absence and tardiness have in the past considerably reduced the average attendance of the schools, particularly in the lower grades, and hence the standard of all.

The majority of the parents ought to take more direct interest in the school life of the children, to more often visit the schools and more frequently confer with the teachers relative to the condition and standing of their children and the possibility of different and improved methods in individual cases, as the result of such conference.

The elementary education furnished by the public schools is of very great importance to the pupil and to the nation. Judging from past experience, the scholarly pupils of ambition, and some of those whose parents have the financial ability and disposition, will seek and secure the full secondary and higher school education, but for the majority the elementary with possibly a year or two of the secondary is all that they will receive.

Hence the imperative necessity for all persons in the community to take an active interest in the welfare of our schools and scholars, and in demanding that parents guardians, friends, teachers, and Board of Education heartily cooperate in actively and reasonably compelling the children to make the greatest development possible during their school-time period, that they may become sturdy and intelligent citizens of our great Republic, possessing a firm grasp of moral principles, animated by a spirit of untiring industry, self forgetfulness, heroic devotion to right purpose and wide sympathy with their fellow-men, men and women of sterling integrity, law-abiding, placing allegiance to our Government and its institutions first, and demanding and insisting that all others within our borders shall render like allegiance, and in short shall be true and loyal Americans.

The roll of honor or perfect attendance is appended.

The present members of the Board are Homer H. Hutchinson, chairman; Wm. C. White, secretary; Mrs. Lura L. Price, Frank N. Gilman and Ira A. Chase.

During the year Mrs. Mabel M. Ladd who for several years past had been a faithful and efficient member of the Board, was suddenly called to the Life Beyond. Mrs. Ladd took a keen and lively interest in our schools and was ever ready with timely suggestions and valuable advice relative to their administration by the Board which takes this occasion publicly to express its deep regret for the loss it has sustained and that the public schools have been deprived of a sincere friend and active worker on their behalf.

Respectfully submitted for the Board,

IRA A. CHASE, Superintendent.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

On account of the influenza, there were not as many weeks of school, and the fall term was more or less broken up, thereby causing the scholars to lose interest in their work.

There are not as many scholars on the roll of honor as usual on account of so much sickness.

As a general rule parents do not visit the school as often as they should. If the parents would get more interested in the scholars that would encourage them to do better work. "A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump." A little more interest will brighten the whole school.

If the House bill No. 262 becomes a law and we have to have 36 weeks of school, as we should have, in an approved building equipped with approved furniture, books, maps, and other necessary appliances, taught by an approved teacher, with suitable provision for the care of the health and physical welfare of all pupils, we see where there will have to be some changes made in our school buildings.

We would all be glad to see the children from the rural districts enjoying the same school advantages as the children in the village.

The schoolhouses in the Brown, Foot of the Lake, Foot of the Mountain, and Burleigh districts have been painted, and other necessary repairs made, and some repairing has been done to the schoolhouse in the Dolloff district.

We feel as though the money appropriated for repairing the schoolhouses had been well expended, and more could have been used to good advantage.

With the increased cost of fuel and other necessities, the expense will increase accordingly. This matter should not be overlooked at the next school meeting.

C. N. MERRILL, Treasurer.

Your firewards have attended during the year 26 chimney fires, for which there has been no general alarm, at an average cost of about $2 each, and as the minimum cost of a general alarm is about $50 each, this one item shows a saving to the Precinct of about $600, and at the same time having had as good or better protection. We would recommend that the practise of calling one of the firewards in a case of chimney fires be continued.

There has been 300 ft. of hose bought during the year, and we advise the purchase of new hose every year to keep the stock in first class shape.

MINOT-SLEEPER PUBLIC LIBRARY —REPORT OF TRUSTEES

To the Inhabitants of the Town of Bristol :

The library has had another year of continued usefulness, both in the magazine and book departments, in furnishing pleasing and restful entertainment for some, much up to date information for others, and generally a large fund of instruction and education for all who have had the disposition and opportunity to avail themselves of the splendid privilege afforded by it. Despite the epidemic of influenza, the patronage has been about as usual.

During the year, 6,741 books have been loaned from the circulating department. 310 new volumes, treating of a variety of subjects, fiction, history, biography, the world war, literature, etc., have been added, making a total of 8,352 books in the circulating department today. In addition there are more than 6,000 reference books and pamphlets to which the patrons have access.

The following magazines kindly furnished by the Minnie Maria Day-Jackman fund, may be found on the reading tables; Atlantic, American, American Boy, Century, Cosmopolitan, Country Life, Current Opinions, Geographic, Granite Monthly, Harpers, Independent, Ladies' Home Journal, Leslies, Life, Literary Digest, Munsey's, North American Review, Outlook, Pictorial Review, Popular Mechanics, Popular Science, Review of Reviews, Scribners, Travel, Worlds Work, Youths Companion.

Why will not more of the public come into the library Wednesday evening or during Saturday afternoon and evening and read those magazines? There is a variety sufficient to satisfy the taste of every fairminded person, and they are replete with suggestion and information of current events and of the best thought of many of the best minds in this country at least, and, in a way, of the world.

There is a request book at the Librarian's desk in which may be entered the title of any book desired, which requests will be considered by the committee on purchase of books. The housing and arrangement of the books is already a serious problem as the books are rapidly outgrowing the space allotted to them. There is a crying need for an addition to the present building, for a stack-room for the books.

Hon. Josiah Minot and Col. S. S. Sleeper, the donors who so generously gave the present building, could have had no realization of the rapidity with which this building would be filled with books, else they they would certainly have extended the southerly end, which, while the building was in process of construction, could easily have been done.

Will not those who may see this report upon the congested condition of the library building, consider it for themselves, and speak to their friends about it, to the end that some person or persons will make a bequest by will, or better, a present gift for the enlargement of the building or toward a fund for that purpose, if that is thought desirable.

During the past year Doctor Channing Bishop, who had served the Board as Secretary and as a member of the Board very faithfully for fourteen years, was called to the Higher Life.

Rev. John Cowan was appointed to fill out his team. Mr. Henry Carroll Field was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Capt. R. W. Musgrove.

The present members of the Board are

Ira A. Chase	George H. Calley
Fred H. Ackerman	Frank N. Gilman
William C. White	Wm. H. Marston
Karl G. Cavis	John Cowan
H. C. Field
